Dear [REDACTED]

I received instructions from the Director's office this week to eliminate certain services which this organization has been furnishing. I regret very much that the elimination of these services will also eliminate the position for which you were slated upon reporting for duty with this organization.

Your papers are being processed, and this will not postpone your entrance on duty, provided you are interested in another assignment which I am prepared to offer you.

I would suggest that on your next visit to Washington you stop in and see me to discuss this new proposed assignment in order to make sure that it is satisfactory to you.

Very truly yours,

STATINTL
